In Memory of Sigmund Freud

80 years after Sigmund Freud was forced to leave Vienna on 4th June, 1938, the Medical University of Vienna will unveil an over life-sized sculpture of Freud, created by Oscar Nemon from 1936. As the successor to Freud's academic workplace throughout his time in Vienna, the Medical University is honoured to preserve the memory of one of its most significant thinkers, Sigmund Freud.

Programme

11.00 am

Unveiling Ceremony

1.00 – 5.00 pm

Symposium: Sigmund Freud, Vienna, and the University

Lord David Freud (great-grandson of Sigmund Freud), Lady Aurelia Young (daughter of Oscar Nemon), Jorge Canestri (President of the European Federation of Psychoanalysis) and Otto F. Kernberg (Former President of the International Psychoanalytical Association) will be contributing with lectures at the symposium.

The Medical University of Vienna expresses gratitude for the generous donations towards the installation of the Sigmund Freud sculpture.
