

SOCIETÀ PSICOANALITICA ITALIANA (SPI)

Italian Psychoanalytic Society

The Italian Psychoanalytic Society, the oldest (1932) and largest Italian psychoanalytic society (823 members and 269 candidates), member of the IPA since 1936, presents its publications in order to share the Italian psychoanalysis, its long-standing tradition and originality with our international colleagues.

“The Italian Psychoanalytic Society is greatly engaged in introducing Italian psychoanalysis beyond linguistic boundaries, to point out its strong and long-standing tradition, the level of its clinical and theoretical elaboration, and the variety of the many directions of which this particular psychoanalytic laboratory of research and clinical practice is made up”.

STEFANO BOLOGNINI

President of the Italian Psychoanalytic Society

Psiche

“Geographies of Psychoanalysis”

A special English/French issue of Psiche, a journal of the Italian Psychoanalytic Society for psychoanalytic culture, which traces a map of the spread of psychoanalysis around the world – especially to India, Asia and Islamic countries – investigating the problems of the “translation” between traditions and cultures so different, and its effects on psychoanalytic theory and clinic.

The Italian Psychoanalytic Annual

The Italian Psychoanalytic Annual 2010/4
the unconscious and repression

B RIVISTA DI PSICOANALISI
JOURNAL OF THE ITALIAN
PSYCHOANALYTIC SOCIETY

Every year a selection of papers published during the previous year in Rivista di Psicoanalisi, the official organ of the Italian Psychoanalytic Society, are translated into English. Our aim is to improve the presence of Italian psychoanalysis on the international psychoanalytic panorama beyond its linguistic boundaries, to adequately represent its polyphonic nature and, in the variety of tones which characterize it, to show the harmony of its voice.

Rivista di Psicoanalisi and The Italian Psychoanalytic Annual are on the PEP-Web and in the PEP Archive 1 DVD since version 8.
